

Board Member: Nathaniel Harding

Nathaniel Harding is President of Antioch Energy, an oil & gas exploration company headquartered in Bricktown. His broad areas of expertise include operational strategy, financial and operational modeling, leadership skills, statistical analysis, leveraging big data, connecting science with commercial strategy, energy, fundraising, and public speaking. Nathaniel graduated cum laude from the University of Oklahoma with Russian Language and Mechanical Engineering degrees, and earned an MBA from Oklahoma City University. He is a former Air Force Captain and veteran of Afghanistan. Nathaniel has been published in multiple industry publications.

Throughout his career, Nathaniel has collaborated across diverse community networks to solve local challenges. The Governor appointed him Chair of the Council on Workforce and Economic Development, managing $20M/year to train and connect the most vulnerable Oklahomans to employment. In 2010 the Mayor appointed Nathaniel to oversee $777M in city infrastructure and quality-of-life projects. He is a trustee for several organizations impacting education, economic opportunity, health and social equity, in addition to mentoring students in STEM fields. Nathaniel and Amanda live near downtown Oklahoma City, and their children attend John Rex Charter Elementary School.
