

Board Member: Rebecca Budd

Rebecca Budd is enjoying a new chapter as an avid supporter of Oklahoma City Public Schools (OKCPS) after a successful 20-year career in the pharmaceutical industry. In one year alone, she volunteered over 1,000 hours at Martin Luther King Jr. Elementary and Wilson Elementary schools. She currently serves as a Board of Education member for District 2.

Her own public-school education drives Rebecca to advocate for OKCPS. She has recruited dozens of volunteers and has organized a variety of donations, ranging from everyday school supplies to new iPads. By establishing a partnership agreement with the Foundation for OKCPS, as well as through a great deal of hard work and persistence, she raised enough money for students at Martin Luther King to experience music and arts education.

Rebecca holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Southern Methodist University and an MBA in marketing, management and strategy from Northwestern University.
